PARTNERS

"The Teacher Academy in Character Education helps put character at the forefront of educating students...the professional development is highly collaborative and something I can use immediately in the classroom."

"AACE encompasses every positive aspect that high school athletics should be. And, I believe that AACE helps our young student-athletes develop the lifelong positive leadership traits they need for success."

"I leave dLACE each time with new understandings and ideas that fit perfectly into the direction we hope to move. I feel like we can implement successful change with regard to character education and not have it be 'just one more thing.'"

"It was incredibly energizing to be around educators who are SO invested in character education and working with children!!...thank you very much for your work and for sharing your expertise! Yesterday was the BEST professional development I've experienced in years!!!"

"I'm so grateful for the fellowship of women leaders across STL who gather for our CharacterPlus At The Table women's leadership dinners. Last night was an incredible evening, and our guest speaker left me in tears. Inclusion for all, everyone matters, advocate for equality; that is the message I left with."

"The c2audit was one of the best assessments we have ever done, and it has provoked great conversations about what we can continue to improve upon! It's definitely impacting and guiding our goals for the future, too!"

INTENTION

CharacterPlus has adapted its ABCs process for creating Autonomy (voice and choice), Belonging (being a valued part of a community), and Competence (knowing you can do what's expected of you) for college and high school coaches and their athletes. Athleaders from each school will become aware of and hone their own virtue and character strengths and leadership potential to help their team thrive and succeed.

OVERVIEW

The Athleadership Academy in Character Education (AACE) provides character education skill-building for NCAA and high school athletes. Annually, each participating university, college, or high school selects two student-athletes from every sport to attend AACE training, allowing them to become Athleaders.

OUTCOME

Athletes and coaches gain an awareness of the relationship hurdles impeding high performance team culture. Participant athletes reflect the personal commitment outcomes we at CharacterPlus love to see - athletes feeling valued (free of bias), team culture where everyone belongs (welcomed regardless), and empowering leadership (voices heard, ideas appreciated).

THE ATHLEADERSHIP ACADEMY IN CHARACTER EDUCATION by characterplus

The High School Athleadership Academy in Character Education (AACCE) provides character education skill-building for secondary school athletes. CharacterPlus has adapted its K-12 evidence-based process for creating Autonomy (voice and choice), Belonging (being part of a community), and Competence (the ability to do something successfully) for high school coaches and their athletes. Annually, each participating high school selects student-athletes from every sport to attend AACCE training in order to become AACCE Character Ambassadors.

- 3 Two-Hour Sessions (Fall, Winter, Spring) ●
- Coaches Training (Virtual Asynchronous) ●
- Up to 45 Athleaders per session ●
- $3,500 per High School ●
- Dates Determined in Coordination with Coaches ●
- Guidelines/Suggestions Provided to ADs Each Season ●
(AD to meet with Fall Sports, Winter Sports, and Spring Sports during season to highlight implementation of AACCE programming)

AACE OUTCOMES INCLUDE:

- athletes feeling valued
- a sense of belonging for teammates
- team culture that actively includes athlete's voice
- stronger social, emotional, character, and performance skills
- model student-athlete leaders who make a positive impact on their teams, schools, and fans

What NCAA athletes and coaches say about the Athleadership Academy in Character Education's impact:

"we are a more unified family"

"this gives coaches the opportunity to work on being a transformational versus a transactional coach, which is often the default"

"we cannot wait to continue our meetings as AACCE character ambassadors"

"we are creating competitive and passionate athletes who also have extraordinary character on and off the field"

Champions for Character raises awareness about the value of schoolwide Service Learning. Schools are recognized for their outstanding examples of service learning implementation.

OVERVIEW

Cardinals Care has sponsored the Champions for Character Service Learning recognition program in cooperation with CharacterPlus since 2004. The goal is to increase awareness of the benefits of service learning and encourage schools to move from one-time service projects to more long-term, schoolwide service learning. The recognition program honors schools in the metro area that have a schoolwide ethos of service learning.

OUTCOME

The recognized schools are honored with tickets to a Cardinals game for members of their school community, a banner, and representation on the field before the game.

character-based technology academy

The Character-Based Technology Academy (CBTECH) aims to immerse teachers, instructional coaches, and school leaders in leveraging emerging technologies to build and foster character in schools. This academy focuses on harnessing the power of technology to develop virtues and skills such as empathy, integrity, responsibility, creativity, complex problem-solving, adaptability, and resilience among K-12 students.

How do educators remain technically proficient and relevant in this rapidly changing world, yet ensure that they don't lose the essence of education: the human connection, ethics, and values?

- Ethical Decision-Making:

The current era is marked by complex ethical dilemmas, from privacy issues in technology use to environmental sustainability. CBTECH equips educators with the tools they need to help students develop their moral compass.

- Digital Citizenship:

Modern learners need to understand the responsibilities that come with being a part of online communities. CBTECH will reinforce the role of important values such as respect, empathy, and integrity, which are essential for fostering positive digital citizenship.

TRAINING TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Responsible Artificial Intelligence (AI), Virtual Reality (VR), Augmented Reality (AR) use
- Successful integration of technology in character education
- Exploring future-focused skills

INTENTION

To improve overall school culture and climate, as well as increase academic achievement and decrease disciplinary incidents, regardless of a school's geographic, socio-economic, or demographic profile.

OVERVIEW

This CASEL-endorsed, evidence-based process's power and sustainability rests in its framework, which emphasizes core values and implementation unique to the school community. By using data for ongoing assessment, monitoring, and refinement, a comprehensive and sustainable process is created.

OUTCOME

Schools that complete The CharacterPlus Way process show higher test scores and academic performance while decreasing disciplinary incidents. School culture and climate improves, relationships are strengthened, and belonging takes a front seat. Additionally, many schools are ready to go through the Schools of Character recognition process after implementation.

CharacterPlus Way®

CharacterPlus Way® is an evidence-based process developed by CharacterPlus to transform school climate, increase academic achievement, and reduce behavior referrals. The three-year process was the focus of a federally funded study, and the successful results led to CharacterPlus Way being listed as a Promising Program with CASEL. Results reflect that the CharacterPlus Way is a compelling process that significantly impacts school culture, resulting in healthier schools. Results further indicated an improved school environment where students are engaged in more prosocial behavior with a significant reduction in discipline referrals and increases in achievement.

Customized on-site coaching and consultation services are at the core of the process. This allows schools to address their specific issues at a pace that works for their staff and students, ultimately leading to whole-school transformation. CharacterPlus Way process schools include early childhood, elementary, middle, and high schools.

CharacterPlus Way federal research grants provided data that showed when implemented with fidelity:

- staff morale was higher
- staff possessed a strong sense of purpose
- staff and students enjoyed a higher level of administrative support
- more students scored at proficient or advanced on state assessment tests
- students demonstrated more prosocial behavior
- school safety improved
- fewer student behavior office referrals occurred
- students felt greater feelings of belonging and autonomy
- and students were more likely to view the school as a community

Promising CASEL Program
Designation Indicating Improved SEL skills and attitudes and improved teaching practices

Over the last three decades of positively impacting school culture and climate, CharacterPlus has become an evidence-based leader in assessing the critical factors that lead to great schools. Our Qualtrics-based annual cSurvey provides the quantitative measurements needed to shape the CharacterPlus Way process.

VIRTUAL TEACHER ACADEMY
IN CHARACTER ED (vTACE)

INTENTION

The Counseling Academy in Character Education (CACE) is designed to be a supportive community for those who work to meet the social, emotional, and mental health needs of young people in schools and other settings. Social workers, counselors, and other mental health professionals will build a support network as they rekindle their passion for this work and form a wellness community.

OVERVIEW

Counselors, social workers, and other mental health professionals who support students and adults in schools and other settings are often overlooked for development specific to their needs. CACE is specifically intended to help these caregivers by intentionally focusing on rediscovering why this work is important to who they are. Our time together will also concentrate on self-awareness, trust, communication, and self-care.

OUTCOME

Outcomes will include a clearer focus on their work directly connected to their why. Participants will also improve their skills to establish trust and communicate not only with those they serve, but also with the other adults who are a part of their community of support. Finally, this collective professional learning network will develop individualized definitions of self-care with intentional strategies for activities to recharge.

Counseling Academy in Character Education

Character Education Skill-Building for Mental Health Professionals

This academy is designed to build a community of wellness for those who provide social, emotional, and mental health support to students in school settings or other sites by helping them:

- Embrace the power of self-awareness
- Rediscover their 'why'
- Sharpen their communication skills
- Uncover strategies to rekindle their self-care

The CACE Mission

To equip social workers, counselors, and mental health providers with knowledge, experiences, and tools to rekindle their passion and commitment to themselves and those they serve.

INTENTION

To help administrators in their quest to better understand where excellence can be attained in their school or district, CharacterPlus offers our Qualtrics-based Culture and Climate Survey platform.

OVERVIEW

cSURVEY questions are age/participant appropriate and thoughtfully brief. Participation rates are high on our mobile-friendly platform, and all responses are collected anonymously. The CharacterPlus results report allows a school team to easily see gaps in perceptions between all stakeholder groups surveyed: students (third grade and up), staff, and parents/guardians.

OUTCOME

The cSURVEY questions will give you clear visibility to the following climate and culture categories in your school:

Feelings of Belonging; Sense of School as Community; Sense of Autonomy and Influence; Sense of Competence; Sense of School Safety; Parents' Involvement at Home; Parents' Involvement at School; Student Engagement

Our cSurvey is MSIP6 aligned!

The school report includes a separate page that isolates the three essential items LEAs must ask their stakeholders:

The school system assures student voices are heard and respected.

The school system provides school culture and climate data and reports periodically to all stakeholders.

Educator teams address positive classroom learning environments.

INTENTION

We are often asked by schools how they know if they are ready to apply for Schools of Character recognition. We created a tool called the c2Audit, which is based on our years of experience helping schools transform their culture and climate.

OVERVIEW

A consultant from our programming team will spend approximately three hours at your school during a typical day. They will tour the building and meet with the administration and/or the culture and climate team to learn about the level of character education implementation in the school.

OUTCOME

This process will create a list of implementation possibilities aligned with the requirements of the School of Character framework, as well as a recommendation regarding the school's timing for applying to Schools of Character.

Ensure your school thrives with every interaction by building positive character, social, and emotional skills with your educators beyond the classroom. Create stronger bonds and a sense of belonging for all support staff in your school by giving them the tools to strengthen relationships on buses, in the lunchroom, and throughout the building.

OVERVIEW

For hundreds of children in your school district, their bus driver, custodial staff, lunchroom team, before-school care, nurse, para-professionals, and administrative assistants are the first educators they interact with as they begin their school day. As a result, your school's character initiative is put in motion long before students enter the classroom.

OUTCOME

Outcomes include an increased sense of belonging and safety in every school setting for students, an in-depth understanding of why each staff member matters in this effort, and positive relationships being forged even in the micro-moment interactions found between students and members of your support staff.

Culture Carriers will help your school community by:

Creating stronger bonds and a sense of belonging for all support staff in your school

Giving bus drivers and all support staff the tools to strengthen relationships on buses, in the lunchroom, and throughout the building

Providing students an increased sense of belonging and safety in every school setting

Building an in-depth understanding of why each staff member matters in this effort, and how their actions and words strengthen school climate and culture

Sharing real-world examples of how students view all adults in their school community as role models

Developing a keen understanding of how positive relationships can be forged even in the micro-moment interactions found between student and members of your support staff

The District Leader Academy in Character Education (dLACE) is a grant program for Missouri school districts that develops district-level champions for character development and school climate initiatives. The process used by CharacterPlus will determine strengths and suggest strategic enhancements to ensure districts use research-based practices that make their schools the best places for teaching, learning, and personal growth.

OVERVIEW

Grant awardees will participate in workshop sessions, personalized coaching, and leadership training in character development. CharacterPlus staff members with deep experience in school transformation will work closely with the district leadership team to examine local data and plan training and implementation for character development and improved school climate.

OUTCOME

Through coaching, on-site training, quarterly regional meetings, and school observations, district leadership will understand essential components and be equipped to guide their district's character and climate initiatives.

The CharacterPlus District Training Series ensures that partners have access to thought leaders in Character Education, School Climate, and Social-Emotional Development. This series makes it possible for partner districts to experience a variety of professional development offerings and to share learning experiences among districts.

OVERVIEW

Each partner district has access to four training sessions per year as part of CharacterPlus partnership. Topics for sessions are chosen by the District Leaders' Council according to their collective needs.

OUTCOME

High-quality professional development makes character education and school climate initiatives possible. Whether foundational character education concepts or innovations in the field, these one-day workshops are designed for districts with information and tools that can be used to deepen practice.

INTENTION

Many marginalized groups of people experience culture and identity stress, which impacts their health and emotional well-being. The Equity and Justice Academy in Character Education (EJACE) aims to change this in St. Louis schools by bringing school staff and students together to develop a mission, vision, values, practices, and narrative that foster a positive impact, thus breaking long-held biases and systemic intolerant attitudes.

OVERVIEW

EJACE is a year-long cohort experience designed to get at the core of what is fundamental for the well-being and success of all. Each school will bring a 4-person team of staff (including the principal). We will look at elements of school culture through the lens of equity and justice, resulting in a journey to create communities where each child, family, and staff member feels safe, welcomed, included, and valued.

OUTCOME

Through a shared purpose and clear vision, the Academy will focus on changing the narrative through examining the following elements: telling our story (Narrative); where are we going and how are we getting there? (Mission, Vision, Values); who are we? (People); where/what are we? (Place); how do we do what we do? (Practices).

START

Contact Dr. Grace Lee, EJACE Director, at glee@characterplus.org.

Equity & Justice Academy in Character Education

EJACE's mission is to ensure a just, equitable, and inclusive school culture. EJACE helps administrators, staff, and students identify and develop mission and vision, values, people, practices, place, and narrative that will reduce the negative impact of inherent bias, social insensitivity, prejudices, and systematic intolerance.

EJACE is a year-long experience in leadership growth and development through the Equity and Justice lens. Each school will bring a team of four staff members, including the building principal. There will be a separate but coordinated student leader training series that occurs at the school site.

All stakeholders will know that equity and justice are central to who we are.

Equity and justice will show up in our mission and vision.

We will be aware of the written and unwritten values of our school.

We will address oppressions openly and honestly.

Our policies will reflect equal access and equity for all stakeholders.

Our curriculum will be representative of all cultures and will be focused on teaching cultural relevance.

Our physical space and place will create a feeling of equity and justice for all.

EJACE offers a thoughtful assessment and opportunities to create a building-wide inclusive climate and culture through five introspective stages by building autonomy, belonging, competence, and dignity.

Every educator deserves access to high-quality character education professional development. CharacterPlus partners have access to a wide variety of free online programming. iCharacterPlus provides the opportunity for educators to grow in their knowledge of why character education is important, as well as the best practices to put in place.

OVERVIEW

Content is focused on relevant topics around social, emotional, and character development. Every educator in your district can now achieve Foundational Certification in Character Education, learn how to conduct Class Meetings, or develop a deeper understanding of the ABCs. iCharacterPlus modules are self-paced and can be utilized individually, with a PLC/grade-level/content team, or for a faculty meeting.

OUTCOME

Our goal is resolute: helping students and staff in our partner districts build the character they need to flourish. Access to this kind of professional development paves the way for classrooms and schools of character to be built.

INTENTION

The Schools of Character application process begins with a rigorous self-evaluation and the creation of a portfolio demonstrating a school's character education implementation. This process can at first seem daunting; however, we believe it has the potential to be the most valuable professional development your school has ever done.

OVERVIEW

Workshops are offered in the summer and fall to equip schools with the knowledge to confidently apply for Schools of Character. The workshop is an overview of the application process, including best practices in creating a strong portfolio. This session is also available online at iCharacterPlus. There are also opportunities for schools who have been through the process to mentor applicants.

OUTCOME

School teams feel empowered to confidently lead their school through the Schools of Character process.

INTENTION

To help leaders understand that effective leadership is an essential factor in ensuring all members of a school community achieve at their highest potential. Leaders who humbly seek to understand themselves first are able to intentionally create a culture where their community members thrive.

OVERVIEW

Participants will engage in a variety of leadership experiences that will result in creating a new cultural foundation for their school. Participants will be ready to apply and integrate relevant SE learning and practical applications into their schools to qualitatively make a positive impact on all stakeholders.

OUTCOME

Participants will develop the capacity to be their best self in order to create thriving school communities. They will build an awareness of the power of capacity mapping, future planning, and SEL in order to affect change. They will bridge the gap between awareness and intentionality into action by cultivating a culture of character (SEL-aligned) and connect learning to evidence-based character and SEL frameworks.

SELf

socio-emotional leadership foundations

Informed by research in adult learning theory, and combined with Socio-Emotional and Character principles, SELf graduates will:

-  Develop leaders' capacity to be their best self in order to serve students, school, and community.
-  Internalize Autonomy, Belonging, Competence, and Dignity and understand its impact in creating thriving school communities.
-  Embrace leading change effectively by understanding self and others.
-  Experience best practices in character education.
-  Build an awareness of the power of capacity mapping, future planning, and SEL in order to affect change.
-  Engage in experiential and problem-based learning to help bridge the gap between awareness and intentionality to action by cultivating a culture of character (SEL-Aligned) in a school/district.
-  Connect learning to evidence-based character and SEL frameworks.
